Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election and amendment are noted. All claims will be examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms "cord" and "cord means", which occur in each independent claim, are inconsistent and render the claims vague and indefinite. Additionally, a shaft is recited, such as in claim 1, followed by recitation of first and second shafts. This also renders the claims indefinite. In claim 2, steps (a) and (b) have no antecedent basis. In claim 11, "transmission mechanism" and "transmission means" are inconsistent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Gershuny.

See the embodiment of Fig. 8. See first shaft 9b, second shaft 9a, and pull cord means 29a. Pulling the cord means in one direction retracts a portion on the first shaft and the reverse is true. Both movements operate the second shaft 9b in opposite directions. The recitation of "means", i.e. converting means, etc., is broadly interpreted. By simply changing which end of cord that is pulled converts rotation of the first shaft into opposite movement of the second shaft.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-15 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
